FRONTRUNNERS IN THE STEEL DETAILING INDUSTRY

Today, the structural steel market is witnessing the needed traction due to the growth and increased construction activities in the commercial, industrial and residential segments. Steel fabrication has become even more vital as a part of the construction industry, as it offers multiple value-added services under a single roof including cutting, welding, machining, and connecting to name a few and this has resulted in an increase in demand for steel products. However, in-depth knowledge and technical expertise is required to aspire oneself as an experienced company in the steel detailing industry. High quality structural steel services aimed towards innovation to deliver improved performance and well-engineered structures which can significantly save cost and time, in addition provide premium quality detailing services to enable fabricators to flawlessly execute work on-sites.

Brainstorm Infotech headquartered in the garden city Bangalore south of India, was founded in 2010 by the dynamic engineering couple Mr. Santosh BM and Ms. Srividhya Santosh along with a small team of young & enthusiastic engineers.

Since then, the organization has been that robust detailing company which multitude of steel fabricators can trust with confidence to construct structures of any magnitude, complexity and scale with ease.

The company predominantly focuses on markets in the US and Canada. However, recently they have successfully secured projects in the Gulf market (GCC) as well.

The company has been on a focused mission to provide high quality steel detailing services to clients in the most accurate, timely and professional manner which will aid in successful completion of client's projects across diverse segments

The fact that Brainstorm Infotech believes in further enhancing its core strengths of technical expertise, project management and 24/7 client support capability by hiring young engineers with great technical competence has been its greatest differentiator. This has also helped the organization gain tremendous trust of its customers and establishes strong loyalty thereby leading to its sustainable profitable growth. Their prime strength is having a "Reliable and Trusted Team"

"We specialize in high quality steel detailing, connection design and checks as per industry standards for steel construction in the commercial and industrial segment along with application of advanced 2D drafting & 3D modeling software" highlights Mr. Santosh B M, Founder & CEO of the organization.

The company with its young and professional team ensures quality assurance, accuracy with the latest software and technology that ensures delivery on-time, every single time. "We strongly believe that a passionate skillful team creates enthusiastic customers and builds a better future," he added.

One Stop Solution for Steel Detailing

When it comes to steel detailing, Brainstorm Infotech offers on demand scalable resource mobilization which enables quicker delivery cycles and timely completion of projects. Moreover, they provide access to 3D modeling software, custom applications and tools and on schedule error free drawings. They also ensure 24/7 customer support so as to handhold its clients throughout the process of fabrication, erection and completion of the project.

Hence, Brainstorm Infotech can be defined as a trusted partner with the best in class service deliveries in the industry.

The company has undoubtedly been the frontrunners in the steel detailing industry for a decade now. They have been delivering successful projects with its deep expertise in detailing of different steel structures in the commercial and industrial segments, thus proving its niche status in the current market.

"We are working with more than 30 large to mega large fabricators across the US, Canada and Middle East today. In the meantime, we are also investing in talent by hiring fresh civil and mechanical engineers from universities subsequently providing them the requisite training for them to excel in their roles. We were never into active marketing as we believe that our quality of work speaks for us. However, recently we have invested in our marketing team since our focus is to secure new clients and have ambitious plans to significantly grow our organization in the next 5 years" concludes Mr. Santosh. ■
